Chicago should be ashamed of itself It gave a surprisingly large majority to the party in Congress which did what it could, first to prevent and then to cut down a handsome appropriation for the World's Fair-a concern that the Republican party instinctively cham-pioned. Credit the Windy City with base ingratitude.

The Russian Government has issued ukase or decree requiring Jewish arti-sans to reside where official boards of trade exist. As these official boards of de exist in only about 10 per cent. o the towns in Russia, this latest edict will bear particularly hard upon that unfortunate people. The object of the Russian authorities is sufficiently apparent; and the result cannot but be another exodus, with all its consequent misery on the frontier and elsewhere.

In his address at Cooper Union Dr McGlynn had some sensible things to say about our public schools. He re-minded his audience of what Arch-bishop Satolii had said in the name of the Pope. That it was "strictly for-bidden to any Bishop or Priest either to actually repel or to threaten to repel from the sacraments as if they unworthy any parents who may ch their children to the public schools." The American people are wedded to their public schools. It is the public school which, more than any-thing else, has given unity to the United States.

In the United States District Court at Portland, Me., a jury returned a ver-dict of guilty in the case of Patrick Finnegan, charged with smuggling. Finnegan is a wealthy Arcostock farmer, whose farm is situated on the Canadian border, so that part of it is in Maine and part in New Brunswick. All his buildings are in Maine except one barn, a portion of which is in Canada. It a portion of which is in Canada. It was charged that Finnegan has been ouying many potatoes in Canada and that subsequently they went to market at of the American door of the barn buying many potatoes in Canada and that subsequently they went to market out of the American door of the barn out of the American who bought these potations and having copied Tax Lunoan's style of make-up, we now look for our afterwithout the payment of duty. ONE of the curious features of Democratic warfare on American labor and capital has been its total disregard of the interest of the so-called raw malerial industries.

Material Interests. The Democratic ornation and editor has usually fought shy of declaring for Free-trade in manufactures, notwithstanding that the Chicago platform, explicitly demands it. He was not moved to this through love for the manufacture, but through fear of antagonizing the manufacturing indusantagonizing the manufacturing indus-tries and the labor they employ. But the has never hesitated to pronunce for tries and the labor, they employ. But he has never hesitated to pronunce for free materials, in utter disregard of the interests of the labor and capital employed in producing them, on the evident assumption that the interests are so insignificant, compared to the manufacture of finished products, that they might be assailed with impunity. The "raw material" industries of this country, however, are of more importance, measured by the labor and capital they employ and the value of their products, than are the industries which produce the so-called finished produce.

From census statistics collected up to date it is estimated that the value of all manufactured products during the census year was $8,700,000,000. That is, the manufacturing establishments took products valued at the latter sum and added $3,210,000,000 of value to them. But year was $5,700,000,000; the cost of materials, $5,85,100,000.00. That is, the manufacturing cetablishments took product valued at the latter sum and added $3,219,000,000 of value to them. But what gave these materials their value? It was treated in precisely the same way as the added value created in the processes of manufacturing by the employment of labor and capital. In fact, they themselves were as truly manufactures as the finished products of which they subsequently formed a part. The manufacture of "materials" is, therefore, more important than the manufacture of finished products in the ratio of 5,481,000,000 to 3,219,00000. So let it not be forgotten that more workers and larger interests are, mensed in the Democratic program of free raw materials than are concerned in the production of dnished products. Free-inade is to begin in our larger instead of our small fields of productive employment.

delivered the court Pri-day on the election against the return of Michael Davitt as member of parliament for North Meath. The decision deprives Mr. Davitt of the seat on the same ground as that resulted in the unseating of Mr. Fullam, as member of vitt's council admitted that the evidence, so far as Bishop Nulty's pastoral denouncing the Parnellites was concerned, applied to North Meath equally with South Meath.

The decision, therefore, vas a fore-deavored to fore tall it by offering to give up his seat in order to present himself again as a candidate. This could not be permitted, the court holding that it could act only upon evidence actually before it, and not upon the admissions in advance of texthnowy.
